In the course of his journey, he discovered another American prominent in the field of exploration:

Robert Edwin Byrd. Scion of a distinguished Virginia family, Byrd led the 1928-30 U.S. Antarctic expedition with the goal of beating Roald Amundsen to the South Pole. He made two more trips to Antarctica, and his accomplishments were matched by several others, including Sir Ernest Shackleton, who took part in the first British Antarctic Expedition (1907-09) and the British Nimrod Expedition (1907-09).

The intrepid deeds of such famed European explorers inspired many to accompany your Expedition to Antarctica. The team's experience, enthusiasm for sharing adventures in the wilderness, and ability to effectively communicate the wonders of the natural world to others in a fun and informative way are the expertise that we are looking for.

Dear Alumni and Friends,

“Everything wears an aspect of unreality,” Ernest Shackleton wrote. “Icebergs hang upside-down in the sky, the land appears as layers of silvery or golden cloud, cloud banks look like land, and icebergs masquerade as islands.” This is Antarctica, Earth’s last frontier. Normal human scales and reference points disappear amid the fantastically shaped icebergs, penguin rookeries and breaching whales. This is nature in its most pristine form.

Few travelers have followed the adventuresome explorers Shackleton, Amundsen and Scott to the Antarctic. Today, we are proud to introduce a spectacular itinerary to this untouched wilderness aboard the exclusively chartered, deluxe M.S. Le Boreal, a state-of-the-art vessel launched in May 2010. Raising the small ship cruise experience to new heights, M.S. Le Boreal is the finest vessel cruising the Antarctic waters, combining innovative design with personalized service in a welcoming and intimate setting and featuring private balconies in 95% of the deluxe, outside accommodations.

To enhance your Antarctic experience, M.S. Le Boreal is staffed with an expert expedition team of naturalists who will guide you on excursions ashore. Under their direction, you will board sturdy Zodiac craft for landings on rocky shores and beaches to observe the antics of Antarctica’s bountiful wildlife—penguins and seals, especially, are unafraid of human visitors—and discover the secrets of the White Continent.

Experience Antarctica now in its unspoiled state. You will sail during the lingering light of the austral summer, when long sunrises paint the icy landscape in soft shades of pink and gold as whales, seals and penguins flock to glistening turquoise glaciers and sparkling icebergs. This itinerary has sold out year after year! Space is limited, so I urge you to place your reservation soon, before July 16, 2010, while Early Booking Savings are still available!

BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA
Wednesday, February 16
Arrive in cosmopolitan Buenos Aires and check into the deluxe MARRIOTT PLAZA HOTEL, adjacent to the chic boutique-lined Calle Florida. This evening, attend the welcome reception.

BUENOS AIRES
Thursday, February 17
The city tour highlights Buenos Aires’ diverse barrios (neighborhoods), from the colorful La Boca district and the city center’s grand public buildings to the parks of Palermo and the charming old quarter of San Telmo. Visit the historic Recoleta Cemetery, famous for its ornate vaults and sculptures and as the final resting place of the legendary Evita Perón.

BUENOS AIRES/USHUAIA
Friday, February 18
Fly to rustic Ushuaia, the world’s southernmost city and gateway to Antarctica. From here, embark M.S. LE BOREAL this afternoon and cruise through the Beagle Channel, named for the ship that carried Charles Darwin on his South American voyages. Attend the Captain’s welcome reception this evening.

CRUISING DRAKE PASSAGE
Saturday, February 19
Cross the legendary Drake Passage. Upon reaching the Antarctic Convergence, watch for breaching fin, humpback and minke whales and seabirds feeding on plankton and krill brought to the surface by the cold Antarctic surface waters merging with the warmer waters of the South Pacific.

Known as the “Wanderer,” the majestic albatross has a wingspan of up to 11 feet, enabling it to fly for hundreds of miles at a time in search of food.

Both elegant and entertaining, penguins are often the first to greet visitors on Antarctica’s shores.

In this seemingly harsh volcanic rock formations and tranquil lagoons. It is also the site of Camara Station, a base staffed by Argentine biologists monitoring regional wildlife. Observe the antics of the island's colony of chinstrap penguins and enjoy the lingering twilight of the Antarctic summer. Deception Island is actually the rim of a massive dormant volcano crater that encircles a lake known as Port Foster. The ship enters Port Foster through dramatic Neptune's Bellows, a sublime harbor ringed by snowcapped peaks and sheer cliffs. In Pendulum Cove, you may, conditions permitting, have the opportunity to wade or swim in steaming, geothermally heated waters. On Baily Head, see a colony of one-quarter of a million chinstrap penguins. Then walk along the black sand beaches of Telefon Bay to nearby craters, which offer fascinating insight into the volcanic activity that created the island and played a pivotal role in the natural history of the region. In Paradise Bay, awesome cliffs of ice descend from the surrounding mountains into the floating iceberg-laden waters along the western coast of the Antarctic Peninsula. Named by 19th-century whalers who sought shelter in its coves, Paradise Bay is an ideal sanctuary for marine wildlife including humpback whales, crabeater seals and Cape petrels. Listen for the low rumbling of Rudolf Glacier as it calves chunks of ice into Neko Harbor, one of the most dramatic and spectacular sights in Antarctica. Named for an early 20th-century floating whaling factory, the harbor is surrounded by soaring glaciers and snow-covered mountains. Here, make your first "continental landing" in Antarctica. Cruise through breathtaking, glacier-lined Neumayer Channel to Port Lockroy. Originally constructed in 1944 by an eight-man team as an intelligence post for British espionage during World War II, Port Lockroy was converted into a whaling station and scientific base in the 1950s. It is nestled among glistening mountain peaks as high as 6,000 feet, and the surrounding grounds are populated by blue-eyed shags and gentoo penguins. Gain insight into the lives of past explorers at the British Antarctic Survey Museum and send a postcard with an Antarctica postmark from the official British Post Office.

Weighing up to 50 tons, this breaching humpback whale migrates to Antarctic waters to feed during the austral summer.

Just off of Port Lockroy, enjoy an excursion to the rocky shores of Jougla Point on Wiencke Island. Experience this rare opportunity to view the nearly intact skeleton of a large whale, and also see large numbers of gentoo penguins and birdlife, particularly blue-eyed shags and kelp gulls.

Flanked by sheer cliffs of towering glaciers between the Antarctic Peninsula and Booth Island, Lemaire Channel offers views of seven majestic miles of mountains and wildlife combined with fascinating patterns of ice floes. Call at Petermann Island, the southernmost point of your journey, and watch its thriving rookeries of Adélie and gentoo penguins and blue-eyed shags.

Enter the Weddell Sea and spot the enormous tabular icebergs that have broken off from the Larsen Ice Shelf. See Brown Bluff's 2,450-foot-high, rust-colored cliffs jutting into the Antarctic Sound, and land on the shelving beach at the base of the bluff. Observe friendly members of the area’s flourishing colony of Adélie penguins, who may approach you for an up-close encounter.

The highly trained, English-speaking international crew provides attentive service.
AMERICA AND ANTARCTIC EXPLORATION

The intrepid deeds of such famed European explorers of Antarctica as Roald Amundsen, Robert Falcon Scott and Ernest Shackleton have long been recounted in gripping personal tales and history books. Less known, however, is that Americans played a significant role in the exploration of Antarctica. Foremost among them was Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd. Scion of a distinguished Virginia family, he led the 1928-30 U.S. Antarctic expedition and, in 1929, he made the first overflight of the South Pole. Byrd later led three additional expeditions to Antarctica and named a large portion of the continent Marie Byrd Land after his wife.

Another American prominent in the exploration of the South Polar region was Lincoln Ellsworth. This Chicago native made the first flight across Antarctica in 1935. In the course of his journey, he discovered the continent’s loftiest mountain range, later named in his honor.

YOUR EXPEDITION TEAM

Members of the onboard expedition team are seasoned experts and naturalists who have studied and traveled extensively in the most remote regions of the world. Their areas of expertise span marine biology, ornithology, ecology, geology, glaciology, conservation and environmental education, as well as history and photography. The team’s experience, enthusiasm for sharing their knowledge and a particular interest in climate change and its impact on the world’s ecosystems make them exceptionally well suited to accompany your Expedition to Antarctica.

Gohagan & Company, airfare, even if purchased through Thomas P. Gohagan & Company.

LUGGAGE: Luggage allowance policies are set by the airlines and may change without prior notice. Please contact your airline(s) for the most current luggage allowance policy.

HEALTH: No sophisticated medical facilities are available in the Antarctic. The vessel carries a qualified physician and a limited supply of medical equipment, and its medical facilities are not equipped to care for serious illnesses such as heart attack, stroke, diabetes events, etc. Evacuation is difficult, time consuming and expensive. Consequently, you should consult with your physician before booking this trip. Any physical or mental condition that may require special medical attention (for example, the need for a wheelchair) must be reported in writing when you make your reservation. If you are not in full agreement with any of the terms and conditions of this “Contract: Terms and Conditions,” you should consult with your physician before booking this trip.

AIRFARE: Airfare is subject to change and is nonrefundable. Your airline ticket constitutes a contract between you and the airline (not Thomas P. Gohagan & Company), even if purchased through Thomas P. Gohagan & Company.

CANCELLATION POLICIES: Cancellations for all or any part of the trip will not be effective until received in writing in the offices of Thomas P. Gohagan & Company. Should you have to cancel, the following cancellation policies apply. Application cancellations are subject to a $200 per person administrative fee from the time of booking through 120 days prior to departure; from 95 through 119 days prior to departure, $800 per person; from 60 through 94 days prior to departure, 75% of the published full regular tariff; cancellations 59 days or less prior to departure, a no-show, or early return from the trip will result in forfeit of 100% of the published full regular tariff. In addition, any applicable airline cancellation fees and administrative fees will be assessed.

POST-PROGRAM CANCELLATIONS: Should you have to cancel, the following cancellation policies apply. Application cancellations are subject to a $200 per person administrative fee from the time of booking through 120 days prior to departure; from 95 through 119 days prior to departure, $800 per person; from 60 through 94 days prior to departure, 75% of the published full regular tariff; cancellations 59 days or less prior to departure, a no-show, or early return from the trip will result in forfeit of 100% of the published full regular tariff. In addition, any applicable airline cancellation fees and administrative fees will be assessed.

Because these cancellation policies are strictly enforced, we strongly recommend for your protection that you purchase trip cancellation insurance and medical evacuation insurance in the event of unforeseen circumstances.

RESPONSIBILITY: Thomas P. Gohagan & Company, the sponsoring institution or association, and its and their employees, shareholders, subsidiaries, affiliates, officers, directors or trustees,successors, assignees (collectively “Gohagan”), do not own or operate any entity which is to or does provide goods or services for your trip, including, for example, lodging facilities, airline, vessel, or other transportation companies, guides or guide services, local ground operators, providers or organizers of optional excursions, food service providers, etc. All such persons and entities are independent contractors. As a result, Gohagan is not liable for any negligent or willful act or failure to act of any such person or entity of any third party.

In addition and without limitation, Gohagan is not responsible for any injury, loss, death, inconvenience, delay, or damage to person or property in connection with the provision of any goods or services whether resulting from, but not limited to, acts of God or force majeure, acts of civil or military governments, any other acts or omissions, theft, vandalism, strike, or riot, earthquakes, storms or other natural disasters, hurricanes, tornadoes or other extreme weather conditions or events or any other act, omission, or event, whether the same be caused by the fault of any transportation mechanism to arrive or depart on time. If due to weather, flight schedules or other uncontrollable factors, you are required to spend an additional night(s), you will be responsible for your own hotel, transfers and meal costs. Baggage is entirely at owner’s risk. The right is reserved to decline to accept or retain any person as a participant on these trips at any time. Specific room/cabin assignments are within the sole discretion of the hotel/cruise line.

Gohagan reserves the right to change the itinerary or trip features at any time and for any reason, with or without notice, and Gohagan shall not be liable for any loss of any kind as a result of any such changes. Gohagan may cancel a trip for any reason whatsoever; if so, each sole responsibility is to refund monies paid by the participant to it. Gohagan is not responsible to cancel any trip for any reason including, but not limited to, acts of God, acts of war, strikes, acts of civil or military governments, or other causes beyond the control of Gohagan. In the event of a cancellation, Gohagan shall not be required to refund any portion of the fare or make any other compensation under these circumstances. Gohagan is not responsible for penalties assessed by air carriers resulting from operational and/or itinerary changes, even if Gohagan makes the arrangements or funds the trip. Gohagan reserves the right to substitute vessels or hotels of a similar category for those listed in this brochure. Gohagan reserves the right to increase the tour price in the event of cost increases due to changes in airfares, currency fluctuations or fuel surcharges and all such increases are to be paid to Gohagan upon notice to the tour participant of such increases.

ARBITRATION AGREEMENT: Any controversy or claim arising out of or relating in any way to these Terms and Conditions, to the Responsibility Clause, to the brochure, or any other information relating in any way to the trip, or to the trip itself, shall be settled solely and exclusively by binding arbitration in Chicago, Illinois, in accordance with the commercial rules of the American Arbitration Association then existent.
